PRESIDENT OPPOSES PRICE FIXING PLAN FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Sectional Lines Erased By Farmers; O'Neal Honored

FLORENCE MAN TO DRAFT RESOLUTION FOR FARM BUREAU

Recognition Given To South By Chicago Convention

PLEA IS VOICED FOR HARMONY

Co-operation of West And Dixie Urged By Carolinian

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Mason and Dixon line virtually was erased for economic purposes today, when Dr. B. W. Kilgore, of Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the board of trustees of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, in addressing the American Farm Bureau Federation, summoned farmers of west and south to unite.

The South received recognition from the North and West in the appointment of Edward A. O'Neal of Florence, Ala., as chairman of the resolutions committee. He is vice-president of the federation.

"Business and industry in all lines," said Dr. Kilgore, "presents a solid front all over the country. It will require the united efforts of the farmers of the west and south and of all parts of the country in support of a wide and comprehensive program in all lines to obtain for agriculture equality of opportunity with other lines of endeavor."

"Working separately, we must fail as the west has failed in a number of years of effort and as the west and south, acting together for a brief period this year, failed to procure proper farm relief legislation, although our friendship and united action brought us to a near victory in the senate."

"The change of four votes would have passed our measure."

Dr. Kilgore advocated co-operative marketing and legislation for handling farm surplus.

"The loss to cotton growers," he continued, "during the past two years, because of the surpluses of two crops, amounted to $760,000,000. In a much briefer period than last year, the grower has, this year seen the price of his cotton decrease by one-third because of the production of three and one-half million bales more cotton than there is immediate need in world consumption."

"The surplus production of the past few years has made the price for the entire two crops of cotton."

Work On Park To Be Started Soon

Work on putting Malone park in good condition for the Minneapolis baseball club, of the American Association, which will train here next spring, will be started within a few weeks.

The playing field will be worked over and smoothed, while a heating plant will be installed in the swimming pool dressing rooms, to enable the visitors to have hot water for their showers, following their strenuous work-outs. A new building will be erected to house the heating plant and provide a space for a "rubbing table" on which the trainer will place athletes, whose muscles are giving them trouble.

TRIO ACQUITTED IN COURT AT PULASKI

West, Brymer, Johns Freed By Jury In Murder Case

Manuel West, John Brymer and Dave Johns were acquitted by a jury in the Pulaski court late yesterday in connection with the slaying of Patrolman G. A. Jackson, according to advices received here. It will be recalled that Patrolman Jackson and Patrolman Dotson, of the Pulaski department, were shot to death on the streets of the Giles county capital some time ago.

Later the trio was released on bonds on charges growing out of the killing of Officer Dotson.

A large crowd was present when the verdict was returned and there was an outburst of applause, but Judge Richardson promptly quelled it.

KIDDIES DELIGHTED TO ACCEPT INVITATION TO THEATRE DEC. 11

If you happen to see a cluster of kiddies gathered on the streets you may rest assured they are discussing the ways and means for going to the Princess Theatre next Saturday morning at ten o'clock when the Princess is offering a picture for the admission price of an old toy or discarded clothing. The kiddies are delighted with the prospect.

Mothers are going to have lots of help around the house next Saturday morning, its going to be done early too. Johnny and Mary are going to that free show down at the theatre and Johnny and Mary going to bring along their toys and clothing that some other little heart in Albany-Decatur may be made glad on Christmas morning.

Ladies of the Benevolent Society are going to take that great pile of toys, given as admission price to the show, and distribute throughout the cities, making the little chaps, not so fortunate, realize that good old St. Nick hasn't Thomas A. Bowles, president of the Textile Realty company, stated today contract had been awarded the Decatur Cornice and Roofing company for the steel which will be used in construction of the $600,000 mill to be erected by the Textile Mills company's $1,500,000 tire fabric plant.

The exact amount of the contract was not announced, but is said to be in the neighborhood of $23,000 and calls for the fabrication of the steel only. The erection will be covered by another contract.

The fact that the steel to be used in the new structure could be fabricated here was very gratifying to local citizens.

The New York Herald Tribune says the companies have reached an agreement, whereby each will maintain its identity, but both companies will cooperate through the Union and United Tobacco Corporation, a holding company, organized eight months ago by persons associated with the United Cigar Stores company.

The United Retail Stores Corporation, organized in 1919, owns the United Cigar Stores, United Retail Stores Incorporated, Furr and Graemer companies.

BAY MINETTE, Ala., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Charges of violating the prohibition law against Governor W. W. Brandon, seven of his friends and a negro servant were not pressed in county court here yesterday after Jack Daniels, of Birmingham, the eighth member of the governor's party, taken in a raid on a fishing camp, where he was a guest, had pleaded guilty to ownership of 13 quarts of whiskey seized in the camp.

SHORT IN ACCOUNT BANK'S ASSISTANT TAKES OWN LIFE

Henochsberg Phones Director Of His Fund Shortage

BANKING AIDES STILL UNFOUNDED

Development Adds to Long List Memphis Bank Mystery

MEMPHIS, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Clarence Henochsberg, 44, assistant cashier of the American Savings Bank and Trust company, telephoned a director of the bank here today that he was short in accounts, then killed himself by shooting.

The bank from which a clerk disappeared last week when shortages of $105,000 in his accounts were discovered, did not open at nine o'clock, but the board of directors went into session.

Rush H. Parke, bookkeeper of the same bank, disappeared last Thursday and has not been seen since that date. Accountants who fixed his shortage at not over $105,000 had been unable to explain what he had done with the money.

Courtney Clisson, teller of another Memphis bank, is still missing after his hurried departure three weeks ago when shortages totalling nearly half a million were discovered.

Henochsberg was shot at 8:30 o'clock, half an hour before the bank opening of the day.

The American Savings Bank & Trust company is capitalized at $100,000. Surplus and undivided profits are listed at $122,000. When Parke disappeared bank officials charged off shortages of $105,000.

Abe Plough, director of the institution was called on the telephone at 7:30 o'clock this morning by Henochsberg who told Mr. Plough he was short in his accounts at the bank. The assistant cashier then returned to his bedroom and fired a pistol bullet into his chest. He left a wife and two children.

COMES FROM WEST TO THIS SECTION

Western Eyes Turned Toward Valley of The Tennessee

All the way from the Pacific Coast to the heart of the Muscle Shoals section, because he had heard so much talk about the North Alabama section, was the reason given today by a traveler who spoke in glowing terms of the prospects offered here. He was on his way to Tusculum and expected to return here within a day or so.

Getting off at the Albany railway station the visitor looked for a taxi. Asking if a taxi could be found, the visitor came in contact with B. A. Turner, local business man, who offered to take him to a hotel. The visitor accompanied Mr. Turner and then told of the interest of the west coast in the North Alabama section. He did not even place the advantages of the west coast above the advantages of this section—and that is something for a Californian.

INDUSTRY KNOCKS AGAIN AT DOOR OF ALBANY-DECATUR

Juniors Discuss The Outlook For More Civic Expansion

NEGOTIATIONS ARE UNDERWAY

Effort Will Be Made To Get Young Men As Members

Industry again is knocking at the doors of the Twin Cities, directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting last night in The Daily office, were told. Members of the board discussed the outlook in a general way, and went over considerable correspondence regarding the possibility of locating one particular plant here. The directors also heard reports of the beginning of other negotiations.

One more step remained to be taken in connection with the negotiations regarding one plant. That step, if successful, will be followed by the laying of the entire plan before local business men, as has been done in previous cases.

The industrial outlook for 1927 appeared particularly bright, according to the reports heard by the board.

The directors laid plans for launching a membership campaign within the next few weeks, during which it is hoped that the interest of additional young men of the Twin Cities can be enlisted in city building.

A nominating committee was appointed last night to present nominations for officers of the club for the year at the December 15 meeting, when the selections will be made.

The Juniors hope that, during next year, their financial support will be such that they will be permitted to open an office and employ an all-time worker to look after the many details of the organization.

One of the objectives for the early part of 1927 probably will be an attempt to get a number of traveling salesmen to make their headquarters here. This movement was discussed last night but definite steps were not taken.

HARRY L. CARTER GIVES VIEWS UPON THE CHINESE SITUATION

Harry L. Carter, Baptist Missionary, arriving today for his first visit home in more than two years, gave very interesting views upon the Chinese situation as he has known it for the past two years.

Mr. Carter, with Mrs. Carter and two children, has been stationed at Canton, a city of 3,000,000 souls, though with an area not so large as Birmingham. From that point he has carried his part of mission work in which 5,000 are entered in that country. That 5,000 missionaries take the word of God to a population of 400,000,000.

Asked if China is progressing under religious influence, Mr. Carter believed that the work has shown rapid advancement. Mr. Carter declared the Chinese differ from his own people in that they are more or less easy going, taking little interest in national or imperial affairs. He did not intimate that the Chinese are not hard workers for he added that work hours are long and tedious and wages are low, although the wage scale is set in accordance with the

34 Families In One Month Move To Twin Cities

Thirty four families were gained by Albany-Decatur during the month of March, indicating the rapid growth now being experienced by the Twin Cities. These figures were released today by W. R. Speer, manager of the local operations of the Alabama Water company and were net.

"The increase is continuing too," Mr. Speer added, "the month of December, ordinarily a poor month for people to make changes, bids fair to outdistance November. Seven new families were given water service on yesterday."

COURT APPROVES SALE OF BRICK CO.

Stephenson Company Now Is Operating Local Plant

Sale of the Decatur Brick corporation to Stephenson Brick Co., of Birmingham, has been confirmed by the courts, and the local plant now is under the management of the Birmingham concern, but is being operated under the firm name of the Decatur Brick company.

E. L. Morrow, manager of the concern under its former ownership, will remain in charge of the plant as local manager. J. Wallace Stephenson, of Birmingham, will be general plant manager, in charge of the operations here and at other points of plants owned by the Stephenson company. After a visit here last week, he planned to return this week, and expects to be in and out of the Twin Cities indefinitely.

Improvements of the plant there to increase its operating efficiency and output are planned by the new owners, although Manager Morrow stated he could not, at this time, give any estimate as to the cost of these improvements.

Effort To Take Car Is Failure

Police are investigating what appeared to be an unsuccessful effort this morning to swipe the automobile of W. A. Bibb, which had been left at the Albany depot, when Mr. Bibb drove there to catch a train. When members of the family went to the station to obtain the car, later in the day, it was discovered an effort had been made to start the car by manipulation of wires. Police believed the person responsible had escaped on a freight train.

CONGRESS GETS IN 'TRAFFIC JAM' ON ITS SECOND DAY

Annual Message Of President Adds To Difficulties

TAX REVISION NOT APPROVED

Treasury Surplus To Be Left To Solons' Discretion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Already heading into a traffic jam on the second day of its new session, congress was given a new list of things to think about today by President Coolidge.

In his annual message, the chief executive put taxes and farm relief at the head of a long series of subjects which he thought might well receive attention before adjournment on March 4.

He disapproved any attempt to permanently revise tax schedules, however, and left it to congress, itself, to finally decide whether the treasury surplus should be turned back to the tax-payers in rebates or applied to the national debt.

His recommendations on the farm surplus question was in general terms, but he asked that there be no price fixing.

Following his custom of last year, Mr. Coolidge sent his message to the capital by messenger and it was read by clerks in senate and house shortly after noon.

At the same time headed to the crowded senate calendar more than 1,000 nominations to public office, including many postmasters throughout the country.

DRIVE STARTS IN ALBANY-DECATUR

Canvassers Are Busy Today, To Continue Through Week

The annual membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. got away to a good start today and will be continued through the days of this week, concluding on Saturday night. The goal of the drive has been placed at approximately 2,000 memberships.

Competition likely will be keen among the forces of the L. and N. shops as opposed, in the contest, to the forces of Albany and the drive committee in Decatur, which include the other industrial plants of the cities. The L. and N. plans to lead the two cities, having an immense body of men to draw from.

C. J. Randolph, secretary of the local institution, stated today that while he was confident of the success of the campaign that he felt it worthwhile to explain to the people of the cities that the greater number of memberships underwritten, the greater the work of the local "Y" can prove this year.

School Plans To Be Drafted Soon

Plans for construction of the proposed new schoolhouse in West Decatur will be drafted soon by the school board, it is said. Sometime will be required to work out the necessary details, including the specifications, plans for sale of bonds and other questions.

Fireworks Sale To Be Permitted

Sale of fireworks, with the exception of sky-rockets and cannon crackers and "blank" pistols will be permitted in Decatur this year, under an agreement worked out by city authorities. Discharge of the fireworks within the fire limits, however, still is under the ban.

ALABAMA TALKED OVER SOUTHLAND

Tide Is Watched In Other States With Equal Interest

Alabama's big chance, meaning the chance of the Crimson Tide to bring a record home in the land of "Here We Rest," is being watched with as much interest in other southern states as in Alabama. Alabama's publicity is at a premium almost, every newspaper in the Southland is talking Crimson Tide, Wallace Wade, Wu Winslett, Barnes, Caldwell and every other being and thing connected with the Crimson Tide and its annual trek toward the west coast.

Alabama is doing something no other team has ever done, she is going to west coast two successive years and she is going with a chance at a clean record and nothing worse than an even break even should she lose to Stanford University.

Don't think much of that losing talk, but in reality you won't find much optimism expressed here in the home state over the chances of the Tide this year. Alabama has a tough job ahead, Stanford is no set up at all, else Stanford would not be the champion of the west coast.

Wallace Wade will not present the same tactics at Pasadena that Glenn Warner saw when he looked at the Georgia-Alabama scrap, that is if Wade adopts the tactics he planned for the Washington Huskie scrap last year. Glenn saw one thing though that he will see again when the Bama squad gets off in Pasadena, he will see great blocking, great tackling, great interference and that's going a long way toward acclaiming the Crimson Tide a victor on New Year's Day.

If you want a personal opinion on the scrap this writer would guess that Alabama is far from having a bad chance at the national bunting. It depends a great deal upon whether Wu Winslett is another Pooley, Hubert and whether he stays in the game to guide the destinies of his team mates.

Quail Reported Scarce This Year

Morgan county hunters are complaining because of the reported scarcity of quail this season. Some hunters have declared birds are fewer this season than in recent years. Others expressed the opinion that the warm weather this fall has resulted in so much foliage being left on trees and bushes that birds are harder to find than ordinarily, accounting for an apparent shortage which does not exist.

DOHENY IS STILL KEPT TO HIS ROOM

Conspiracy Trial Is Halted With One Defendant Out

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A turn for the worse in the condition of Edward L. Doheny today halted his trial here on a charge of conspiring with Albert B. Fall in the leasing of the Elk Hills Oil Reserve.

The 70 year old oil magnate has been suffering for a week with an infected arm and last night a second lancing operation was performed. His physicians ordered him to remain in bed at least for today, but said that by tomorrow or Thursday the patient should be in condition to again appear in court.

Upon presentation of a physician's certificate at the outset of today's session, Justice Hoehling adjourned the trial until such time as Mr. Doheny should be able to resume his place in the courtroom.

Despite the second operation, performed in the oil man's hotel room, he was in considerable pain today and was running temperature, the doctors said, however, they saw no immediate danger. The infection first was lanced on Friday night and during Saturday's short session Doheny carried his arm in a sling. He was put to bed immediately after Saturday noon adjournment. Yesterday he was in his accustomed place at the big table provided for his counsel in front of the judge's bench, and although he appeared weak, he gave every evidence of being on the road to recovery. His trouble now is diagnosed as a carbuncle.

Frank J. Hogan, chief of the defense, told the court today that his client might be able to return tomorrow morning, but no definite time for reconvening was set.

Should the illness continue, Justice Hoehling plans to examine the law on the point whether the trial might be resumed without the presence of one of the defendants.

COURTHOUSE PLAN NOT YET FINISHED

Architect May Give First Draft By Next Week

Morgan county officials still are marking time in their plans to replace the burned courthouse, while Ben Price, of Birmingham, architect selected for the purpose, is busily engaged in preparing his first draft of the plans for rebuilding.

Officials today did not know exactly when this initial draft will be ready for submission to the county board of revenue, but many took the view that the plans might be presented next week.

Under the instructions of the board, the new plans will utilize, so far as possible, what remains of the burned building, but the new structure will have very much more space than the old one.

Annex Ready In March Is Outlook

VISITOR VOICES SPORT APPROVAL

Surprised There Is So Little Sports Here In Cities

"We'd like to give the reader a page of sports per day, but you don't have any idea how difficult it is to dig up sports in these parts," was the opinion of a Daily sport writer given to a visitor yesterday while the subject of sports was being discussed. The visitor represented a rival news service and was talking of the sport service offered.

Discussing the sport angle to things in Twin City parts the visitor asked if there was not a great deal of scholastic and amateur sports going on here. The answer obviously was in the negative and he too began scratching his head regarding the availability of news material to make up a happy, snappy, sport page.

He suggested that foreign sports be used, services from other cities, but was informed that the people of these cities wanted local sports if at all.

He found that there is a common purpose built up among fan-doms when sporting events are of considerable interest and approved sports from every standpoint, urging that the home newspaper take every opportunity to play sports to the best advantage.

FARM MARKETING CENTERS COOLIDGE ADDRESS SENT TO OPENING OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Some form of temporary tax relief, and "a sound solution," if possible, of the farm marketing problem were urged by President Coolidge today in his annual message to congress.

He left the specific methods to the legislators themselves, stipulating only that a prospective $383,000,000 Treasury surplus should not be regarded as warranting a permanent tax revision, and that in approaching the farm relief problem Congress should shun anything savoring of price-fixing.

The president also suggested that steps should be taken "at an early day" to transfer the Philippines from the military to the civil branch of the government; proposed that something be done to end the "great inconvenience and expense" caused by lowering the level of the Great Lakes; renewed his stand for the protective tariff and for complete observance of prohibition; again pledged his administration to economy; and laid down a long list of other suggestions, although conceding that in the short session no extensive program of general legislation would be possible.

The message contained no mention of the World Court, a subject which he said in his Kansas City speech he would not again submit to the senate. Nor was there any direct reference to Mexico.

His suggestions on other questions included:

Broadening and strengthening the federal agricultural agencies. Revision of the livestock grazing regulations.

Continuation of reclamation developments.

Development of Muscle Shoals with cheaper fertilizers in view. Development of the Mississippi and Colorado rivers, and of rivers and harbors generally.

A great Lakes-to-the-sea canal along a route yet to be chosen.

Railroad consolidation; and simplification of the process of valuing railroad properties.

Canal control legislation.

Adequate military and naval preparedness.

Support of the Geneva preliminary conference and other movements for the reduction of competitive armaments.

Enactment of such prohibition enforcement legislation as the treasury may recommend.

Branch banking legislation.

Renewal of the charters of banks in the federal reserve system.

Adequate care of disabled veterans, but no extension of the pension system.

Return of alien property.

"Fair salaries" for federal judges.

One-man control of the government fleet.

Anti-lynching legislation.

In the face of the estimated treasury surplus, the chief executive said there was "no reason why a balanced portion of surplus revenue should not be applied to a reduction of taxation," but he contended that any permanent reduction would not be warranted, at this time, with the government conducting a going business of been reached by the various agricultural interests upon any of the proposed remedies. Out of the discussion of various proposals which can be had before the committees of agriculture some measure ought to be perfected which would be generally satisfactory.

Recounting the efforts of his special cotton committee to aid Southern producers, the president said:

"As a result of this co-operation sufficient funds have been pledged to finance the storage and carrying of 3,000,000 bales of cotton. Whether those who own the cotton are willing to put a part of their stock into this plan depends on themselves. The federal government has co-operated in providing ample facilities. No method of meeting the situation would be adequate which does not contemplate a reduction of about one-third in the acreage for the coming year. The responsibility for making the plan effective lies with those who own and finance cotton and cotton lands."

The prosperity of the country the president reported as widespread and based upon economy, the reduction of waste and a general raising of the standards of efficiency, and all predicated on the foundation of a protective tariff.

DIETING LEADS MANY INTO TUBERCULOSIS

Warning Note Sounded by Health Association
Expert Who Backs Her Statements with Official Figures.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

GAY life and a slender figure are said to be responsible for the steady increase of tuberculosis among girls and young women.

This is the opinion of Dr. Al Asserson, of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association. She thinks the modern flapper and her immediate seniors are in serious danger of this disease. To prove it she quotes the statistics of the New York Health Department are quoted: 15 and 19 years of age is 237 out of 100,000. Between 20 and 25 years, it is 370. These are very high rates.

Dr. Asserson comments on these figures and gives her explanation of the cause. I quote:

"The fashion of the day demands slender, graceful lines, and no girl wants to be out of fashion. Many girls, therefore, deny themselves nourishing food because they are fearful of gaining weight. This applies to society and working girls alike. The case of the working girl is also apt to skimp on food, so that she will have more money to spend on pretty clothes."

"Lack of sufficient sleep and rest is another factor. The desire for a good time leads them to burn the candle at both ends. They work all day—perhaps in an office or factory, perhaps in school, or perhaps in a whirl of social duties—and with that they combine a nightly round of pleasure that often lasts well into the morning hours."

This is a dreadful arraignment of modern life. Of course, it does not apply to the large majority of girls. But where it does fit, I have no doubt the doctor is right.

Growing girls and growing boys, and for that matter all the rest of us, must have plenty of sleep and rest. Without these restorative blessings health is sure to be undermined.

Nobody can have good health, or possess effective powers of resistance to disease without nourishing food and enough of it. To skimp on food is to fatten the tuberculosis germ.

Most of us eat too much, but it is just as bad to eat too little. Good food must be used in the choice and quantity of food consumed.

Tuberculosis is entirely unpreventable. The right manner of living is all the protection needed to guard against it. Let us think about the relation of sleep, food, exercise and fresh air to long life. Without them, in abundance, life will be shortened.

With them, there is every prospect of living to be a hundred.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. (Copyright, 1926, by The Star Co. For Albany-Decatur Daily).

In offering Mr. Brisbane's daily editorials The Daily does not necessarily concur with his opinions, but offers them as the sentiments of the highest paid editorial writer in this country.

JANUARY cotton feel below 12 cents Friday. Other months reached new low prices. That is something for the republican administration to think about. Southern congressmen must protect their cotton growers. A combination of the farm bloc and the South could do many things.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB promises Baltimore, at Sparrows Point, the world's largest steel plant, making Baltimore instead of Pittsburgh, the steel center. Pittsburgh is still to be heard from, also Judge Gary and Mr. Farrell of "Big Steel."

Baltimore has the great advantage of being within easy reach by water freight, of the high grade iron ore in Cuba.

HOWEVER, the new process of steel making by electricity, diminishing rust, eliminating impurities, may change the whole industry more than Bessemer changed it. And the electricity process might move the steel center away from the coal beds to centers of cheap hydroelectric power. That would interest California.

FARMERS will be interested in the world's most wonderful fertilizer, a new scientific production announced in Berlin. They call it nitrophoska, composed of phosphate acid and potash.

It's a product of the German dye trust, and farm boards will want to know about it before placing their orders for the old type of fertilizer that contains about a pint of real fertilizer in a wheelbarrow full of sand.

PROF. MURDOCK CAMERON, of Glasgow University, showed Princess Mary, daughter of King George, how he could quiet a crying baby. In a maternity hospital he took up one crying infant after another put it face downward on one arm, smoothed it with his hand, patted it gently and the crying stopped. But he would not tell his secret.

MILLIONS of crying American babies for years were quieted with a dose from a bottle of so-called "soothing syrup," containing opium.

A soothing fortune was built on the syrup that killed thousands of babies. Doctors knew about it, and yet it went on, until recently.

Many a rich woman turning her baby over to "my wonderful nurse" little suspected that the wonderful nurse's power was locked up in the poisonous soothing bottle.

One thing mothers should know—it is not natural for babies to cry, and it is not good for them.

Whimpering by a tired baby, before going to sleep, or any angry cry from a hungry baby waiting for food, means nothing. But hard crying means something wrong that should be righted.

POLAND complains to the League of Nations—France and Britain are agitated about "German forts on the East Prussian frontiers." France is anxious that Germany shall not have an army.

GERMAN forts on the Eastern frontier would be useful should the big bolshevik war start on a conquering expedition toward the West. France, Britain and Italy may yet look to Germany to hold back these forces from the East.

RUSSIA is saving her money, her people are working, her wealth and population are gigantic. She knows enough to build flying machines and can call on unlimited Asiatic population if she doesn't want to have her own young men shot too quickly.

Western Europe should endeavor to organize for future trouble instead of keeping up the old jealousies. The German republic does not want war; knows there is nothing to it.

THE so-called "rebels" of Nicaragua, have installed as president Dr. Juan B. Saca, who hurriedly appoints a cabinet, preparing to war on Diaz. The latter requests Uncle Sam to come down and maintain order. As long as the rebels do not bother the Panama Canal we shall let those gentlemen fight it out. They don't bother us when we had out civil war. Why should we dictate to them? A wise man said, "Nobody ever got poor taking a profit or minding his own business."

THE unpleasant difficulty about being a dictator resides in the fact that so many people are anxious to shoot you. This time it is Primo De Sivera's turn. Three that wanted to dispose of him have been arrested.

THE Bolshev'k government continues war against Trotsky, once head of the Russian army under Lenin, now pushed from pillar to post. His last job was head of a government hydroelectric power plant. That is taken from him.

The Views of Others

UNDERWOOD ENDORSES
AL SMITH

The recent endorsement of Governor Al Smith of New York by former Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama creates very little new in Alabama politics, but strengthens the position that the former senator has been occupying in Alabama politics for a number of years. The statement, while widely contrasting the views of a great number of people in Alabama, breathes a pure democratic note, which fact cannot and will not be questioned by the students of democracy. The senator's statement on the Volstead act or the eighteenth amendment can and will probably be interpreted many different ways, but analyzing it from the viewpoint that it was undoubtedly given one cannot reach an absolute conclusion that the tone does not bear democratic principles.

While not seeking to justify the senator's position on the eighteenth amendment, but analyzing it from an unbiased position, it would appear that differences have arisen over the means to an end. The statement carried by the Alabama press of last week and attributed to him does not set out the fact that he is favorable to the whiskey traffic or against it, but only points out the undemocratic existence of the law, which according to his position, is dangerous and sets a precedent for a centralized government.

Governor Smith's bid for the democratic presidential nomination must not be accepted too lightly by those who oppose him. He is an outstanding character in eastern politics and the idol of thousands who look to him for guidance. Should the governor succeed in receiving the democratic nomination there are those who predict certain his election as president of the United States. With the cast, normally republican, being split for the democrats and the solid South and a substantial part of the West going democratic as usual, the friends of the governor predict a great victory in 1928. There are many, however, who entertain faint hopes of Smith receiving the nomination and even less of being elected president. His opposition to the eighteenth amendment and his faith in the Roman Catholic church are the greatest barriers to his nomination, according to those who oppose him, and are sufficient to destroy his chances. The solid South, always democratic, will break away from the ranks in the event of Smith's nomination is the threat by those bitterly opposed of him, while it is also reasonable that the Ku Klux Klan in mass will desert the nominee for a third party candidate or will remain away from the polls. There is danger in this, however, according to the opposition to Smith, because of an opposition that was unorganized which would naturally bring the South again in the usual democratic field.

Whatever the result of the next democratic convention proves to be it is evident that the fight between the party will be even more disastrous than the last convention in which John W. Davis received the democratic nomination. Another fight in the convention, as seen by political observers, will cripple and weaken the national democratic party to such an extent that her chances for presidential victory will be almost wholly obliterated.

The democratic party is due a sweeping victory next time and evidences point heavily that way, but unless the leaders of the national party guide the old ship clear of the barriers at the convention her apparent success will be turned into defeat, regardless who is the party's nominee—Lafayette Sun.

SOCIETY WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH

Mrs. E. C. Price was the charming hostess at a general meeting of the Missionary Society of the Central Methodist church at her pretty bungalow on Grant street Monday afternoon. Mrs. Price wore a satin back crepe of wisteria shade and greeted her guests in her usual gracious way. Pretty vases of fall flowers in orchid shades were an added attraction in the living room. The dining room was changed to a scheme of yellow.

The membership was out in great numbers. Mrs. B. E. Pruitt, vice-president, was in the chair and opened the session at three o'clock with a hymn. Mrs. John Boggess presiding at the piano. Mrs. Ben L. Smith gave the scriptural reading from Acts. Mrs. J. J. Rose followed with a fervent prayer. The president called for reports from the superintendents of the departments, the response was cheering and satisfactory.

The three-day whirlwind bazaar plans were discussed and committees appointed. The finale to the bazaar will be turkey dinner served December 15. Mrs. Virginia Graham was appointed chairman of the dinner committee with an efficient committee of culinary artists to assist her. Mrs. Graham, recently elected president, in a graceful address, resigned from that office. Mrs. James D. Hunter was unanimously elected to serve. Business finished, a motion to adjourn prevailed and an invitation to join the hostess was accepted when tea and sandwiches were served.

DECATUR P. T. A.

At the called meeting of the Decatur P. T. A., held on Monday afternoon in the science room of the Riverside High school, a two-fold purpose was accomplished, that of perfecting plans for the bazaar that will be given this week and for presenting the Howard Glee club next week.

Reports showed that homes had been secured for entertainment of the girls of the Glee club. The bazaar committee gave a good report of articles promised. The junior department under the supervision of Miss Florence Tillman took charge of the ticket sale and they were appointed on committees to have cars meet the girls and usher them to the different homes. It was stated that the proceeds from the Glee club performance would go to the Library fund.

The regular meeting for the second Monday in the month will be held on Monday of next week as usual.

Waltz Memories

By Fanny Darrell.

SHE is living over again and again the magic of that Waltz. The lovely melody fills her brain and she feels again the thrill of His touch as their hands and eyes met and they were carried away by the sweetness of the moment into the Dream Waltz.

Milady has lost all record of time and space as she gazes into the land of The Waltz and again lives that last Dance. The moon is waning, the stars are at their brightest just before they give way to the darkness before dawn. But sleep has passed her by. She is wrapt in the sweet memories of that Waltz.

circles of the Woman's Missionary

Society of the First Methodist church was held on Monday afternoon at the church as this was the last business meeting of the year 1926. Circle 3 had charge of the devotional and Mrs. Vera Austelle led them. Praise and thanksgiving, the theme of the songs and prayers, was further emphasized in the reading of the scripture the 103rd Psalm.

Mrs. G. D. Williamson, the president, was in the chair and Mrs. Ritter acted as secretary. After routine matters were disposed of, each circle gave monthly reports including social service and finances. These showed good general condition. Committees were also heard from.

Mrs. L. W. Lee, the new agent

for Voice, made an earnest plea to the members of the Auxiliary to avail themselves of the opportunity of the splendid reading matter in this magazine. Mrs. Rufus Pearson announced that the James Duncan Memorial Circle would have charge of the annual Harvest Day program and it would be given on Monday of next week at the church.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. J. S. Robertson.

Thad Wilkinson Company Pleases Big First-Night Princess Crowd

Taking the management at its word that in offering Thad Wilkinson and his company of fun-makers, something different in tabloid was offered, a big first-night audience greeted this company last night. In his opening program, Wilkinson's entertainment went over nicely.

Thad, himself, did a pair of amusing skits by his lonesome, helped the other members of the company along at various and sundry times and generally made himself useful. His supporting company is not at all bad, but, as may have been suspected, lacks something of being up to the standard of excellence set by Thad, himself. In all, however, the Wilkinson players form a tabloid production well above the average, and after seeing their opening performance, there is little wonder that they could stay five weeks in Nashville and that popular demand necessitated a second week in Cadalen just before their arrival here.

Before closing something should be said of a young woman, discovered after investigation to be billed as "Jo Morrison" and possessing, in addition to enchanting eyes, a husky contralto voice of rich tone qualities. Just what reason she has for remaining in tabloid musical comedy is her own secret. Certainly her appearance last night in several numbers was an entertainment gift to the Princess audience beyond anything the audience had expected. She is likely to draw quite a few extra customers to the Princess during the week's engagement of the company here.

Eddie Lewis May Be Here In March

Eddie Lewis, diminutive outfielder, who patrolled the right garden for the Twin City club in the Alabama-Tennessee league, may return to Albany-Decatur this spring. This time, however, he will be a member of the Nashville Volunteers. Eddie now is the property of the Chattanooga club, after having once been a hireling of Jimmie Hamilton at Nashville. Reports from Nashville are to the effect that negotiations are in progress, looking to the possible purchase of Lewis by the Vols. If these negotiations are successful, Eddie would come here on the two visits the Nashville team plans to make to the Twin Cities to meet the Minneapolis Millers, who will train here.

BOY TO RECOVER

Hubert Reed, youth who was injured several days ago, when hunting with a companion in the woods east of the city, continues to improve at Benevolent hospital and will be able to leave the institution soon, it is believed.
